I am implementing a paywall in Wordpress and am using Dean Foland's paywall plugin. My issue is that I can only get it to work for the first widget on the frontpage but it does not trigger when you click the "Read More" link in another widget. I can get it to work if I use my Theme's Frontpage widget. I would like to use the separate widget that comes with the paywall plugin to make it easier for a future project. I'm not sure if its just a bit of CSS or what is causing this to not trigger. I have changed the page load order to make sure that my if statement's are loading before the corresponding action in the widget. elseif(/* Based on the width of the first child / is_feed() || / If it is a page number / is_singular('display_post') || / If it is being called for page */ is_front_
