AutoFile (formerly ClearContext Personal) Crack With Keygen [Mac/Win] 2022 [New]

AutoFile (formerly ClearContext Personal) Crack+ X64

Personal-version of our huge ClearContext Inbox Manager for Outlook. AutoFile is an add-in to Microsoft Outlook that organizes the inbox into separate folders and files. The personal-version is not a web-based application, rather the add-in is standalone. Features of the Personal-version of AutoFile (formerly ClearContext Personal) are: Group and sort e-mails, files and emails into different subfolders based on rules you create. Rule-Based color coding: color codes the e-mails depending on the rules you have created. If a rule doesn't exist for the e-mail, it gets a default color. If the color isn't defined, the color of the e-mail is from the "no color" rule (rule 0). You can create rules for e-mail, files, incoming e-mails, out-going e-mails, if a rule is defined for a specific sender or category (e.g. Legal, Marketing, etc.). When you open a e-mail, instead of moving the e-mail to the e-mail's folder, the e-mail is automatically moved to the folder based on the rules you created. You can easily go back and change the rules for the folder again, instead of moving all the e-mails again. All these features are available in the premium version of ClearContext Inbox Manager. ### What's New in the AutoFile (formerly ClearContext Personal)?

ClearContext Personal is an email organizer add-in created specially for Microsoft Outlook, which automatically organizes, prioritizes and color-codes the e-mail in your inbox. Instead of facing a flood of unorganized e-mails, the inbox appears the way it should be - the most important e-mails from the most important senders are at the top of the inbox, ready to be dealt with immediately. Less important e-mails, such as newsletters and correspondence from low priority senders, are placed further down in the inbox and junk/spam e-mails are moved to the bottom. Additionally, ClearContext Inbox Manager automates the e-mail filing process to help you keep your entire mailbox organized and prevent email overload. All of this is done automatically by analyzing existing e-mail - no configuration or software "training" is required. You are using an older version of Internet Explorer. It may not display all the features of this website. To improve the user experience, please upgrade your browser to the latest version of Internet Explorer or Firefox.
