In my iOS app, I have a class ParentClass: @interface ParentClass : NSObject I have a subclass ChildClass. In ChildClass, I want to place this text on the picture: * ChildClass I am trying to do this: - (void)viewDidLoad { [super viewDidLoad]; ChildClass *c = [[ChildClass alloc] initWithImage:@"~/Users/.../Photos/sample.jpg"]; self.view.backgroundColor = [UIColor blackColor]; [self.view addSubview:c]; [c release]; } However, this shows: ChildClass Does anyone know what am I doing wrong? Or how to properly place the star? A: You must use self.view instead of a direct reference. You are creating a new view and then setting your background to be black. You need to modify
