Photoshop lets you create gradients with ease, and you can even create a gradient as a layer with a matching fill color and gradient settings. You have control over any adjustments to your gradient. You can make changes to color balance, contrast, levels, brightness, and so on. You can also adjust the opacity of the gradient with the Opacity slider. In addition, you can fine-tune the look of a gradient by adjusting the gradient settings. e3d0a04c9c
