The game has three primary campaigns at launch: The East Wind, Apex Protocol, and Remnants of War. Then, in 2019, the developer created a fourth campaign called Contact, set in the 63 square mile Livonia. The latest update to the game was in 2021, when the developer released the Western Sahara DLC. The game also had four DLCs which filled in some narrative gaps in the game's main storyline. These content are called Episodes, with the first three released in 2017 and the last one in 2019. Although there were no further releases after that, the game is still available for purchase on its official website and Steam. This 2019 game is the 11th installment in Tom Clancy's Ghost Recon tactical shooter franchise. Set on the fictional island of Auroa in the South Pacific, the player can explore over 700 miles of varying terrain. You will find yourself exploring, fighting, and surviving among forests, swamps, mountains, and even volcanos. While there might be a couple of bigger open-world games out there, they're no longer available for download from their publisher or on Steam. Nevertheless, these five games will have you spending a lot of time in front of your console or gaming PC, exploring their expansive worlds. While the newest game on this list launched in 2019, their developers continue to release updates and DLCs, ensuring the players get updated content. Besides, we're all excited about games that will come out this year. We're all hoping game developers will release a new expansive game world that lets us explore an even larger area than the ones here. Bohemia Interactive officially announced the development of Arma 3 on May 19, 2011.[17] In June 2012, an alpha version of the game was demonstrated at E3.[18] In August 2013, Bohemia announced that they would release three downloadable content episodes for free after the game's initial launch.[19] In Arma 3, downloadable content falls under two categories: "platform content", which is present in the game; and "expansion content", which is not preloaded and must be purchased and mounted to the game to be accessed. All Creator DLCs and most of the Contact DLC are considered expansion content, and are mostly considered non-canon in the Arma universe. It was announced on May 28, 2014, that the game had sold one million copies. In October 2015, sales had reached two million units, and by March 2017 it reached 3 million sales.[28][65] The game has sold 5 million copies as of June 2019.[66] The next best online game for PC on the list is Apex Legends. Developed by Respawn Entertainment and published by Electronic Arts, Apex Legends crossed over 25 million downloads within the first week of its launch. *Call of Duty: Black

Ops Cold War/Call of Duty: Warzone on pre-order platform required to redeem Night Raid Mastercraft, sold/downloaded separately.
