Bismanuel: A Rising Star in Gospel Music

Bismanuel was born in Lagos, Nigeria. He grew up in a Christian family that exposed him to gospel music from an early age. He started singing in the choir of his local church and developed a passion for music. He learned how to play various instruments such as the keyboard, the guitar, the drums and the saxophone. He also started writing his own songs and producing his own beats.

Bismanuel decided to pursue a career in gospel music after he had a personal encounter with God that changed his life. He felt a calling to use his gifts and talents to glorify God and minister to others. He released his first album "Grace" in 2015, which was a success and earned him recognition and awards. He followed it up with another album "Glory" in 2017, which was also well-received and acclaimed.

Bismanuel's style of gospel music is a blend of contemporary, traditional, afrobeat and jazz genres. He draws inspiration from various gospel artists such as Kirk Franklin, Don Moen, Nathaniel Bassey and Sinach. He also collaborates with other gospel singers and musicians such as Frank Edwards, Mercy Chinwo, Tim Godfrey and Eben.

Bismanuel's latest album "Love 'N' Light" was released in 2020 and it features 12 tracks that showcase his versatility and creativity. The album has been praised for its quality production, uplifting lyrics, catchy melodies and powerful vocals. The album also reflects Bismanuel's personal journey of love and faith in God.
